

MOD SQUAD

"The Mod Squad" comprises three young social outcasts who, after various run-ins with the law, are recruited by the fuzz to infiltrate various contemporary rackets and situations into which, because of their youth and social standings, they could easily blend: such as the drug users, juvenile gangs and all the problems associated with the current Los Angeles "scene." Pete Cochran (Michael Cole, middle) is a rich-kid rebel out of the James Dean mold; Julie Barnes (Peggy Lipton, left) is a hippie-type chick from a rough background and Linc Hayes (Clarence Williams III, right) is a ghetto Negro with no great love for the white establishment. Their mentor, police contact and general aggravation is Capt. Adam Greer, played by Tige Andrews. Together the kids romp through semi-orgies, pot parties, motorcycle blasts and some pretty hostile older company affiliated with the usual rackets. Debut: Sept. 24.
